Dear Miss Weston,

Two Blackstone gentlemen have been in - they give encouraging accounts of the prospects of the Fair there; but say, that it will not do to risk the sending of the Goods as late as the Monday of that week (the 27th day), as the Railroad arrangements are not good, and advise that the goods go to the depot as early as ^{the} Friday previous, which will be the last day of the Ann^t. Meeting. During the 3 days of the Ann^t. Meeting I presume you could not give any time to the matter, and I know that I could not. Would it not be well, then, provided it be possible, that you or your sisters should come in town on Monday or Tuesday ^{next} (Tuesd. a.m. would be soon enough) & get the boxes ready for Blackstone,

So that the matter might be all done up previous to the Ann't. Meeting. - If, however, you could do this work during the Ann't. Meeting, you will decide accordingly. -

Mr. Phillips suggests that, as they did so well at their other Fair, in Millville, ~~that~~ ~~a~~ large & handsome Collection of goods should be sent to them this time.

Mr. Wallcut calls for the Rent of the Gannet! Shall I pay it from the funds now in my hands? Or shall we insist on the Liberator's paying the half of it? The L. is as well able (think of it!) ~~now~~ to do this now as the Bazaar is, and I think we had better open this question again. Are you bound for more than one year?

I am,
Very truly Yours

Saml May Jr.

Mr. Berry has never been for her money, and I know not where to look for her.

A few copies of the Liberty Bell, it is said, will find purchasers at Blackstone.
